Our Community

The Brockport Central School District encompasses 72-square miles and is home to approximately 30,000 residents. At the center of our community is the Village of Brockport, a historic Erie Canal community, and home to such notables as Mary Jane Holmes. Our location affords residents a mix of country charm and urban opportunities, as we are just minutes from downtown Rochester, New York's third largest city. The greater Rochester area is home to seven nationally acclaimed public and private institutions of higher learning, including The College at Brockport, located next door to our campus, the University of Rochester (with its renowned medical school and Eastman School of Music), and the Rochester Institute of Technology.

Our Schools

Students get a great start at Brockport's Universal Pre-Kindergarten program, a collaborative effort between Brockport Central School District and area childhood educational agencies.

Brockport students take an active role in the Community, beginning in Kindergarten with the PBIS program (the 3 B's: Be Respectful, Be Responsible, Be a Learner). Programs to foster a positive school environment can be found at every grade level.

Beginning in middle school, students can start an engineering sequence through a national program called Project Lead the Way.

Unique partnerships with area universities, businesses and the community enable Brockport to provide many valuable learning opportunities. Brockport High School, nationally recognized as a model school with 18 Advanced Placement offerings, provides a mixture of classroom learning and real-world work experience in the New Visions and the CIP Internship programs. Students can begin their college course work through a 3-1-3 partnership with The College at Brockport.

The Brockport Board of Education will offer a three-year contract with a regionally competitive salary and benefits package based on qualifications and experience.
