

New York State Education Department Teacher's Institute

Literacy and the Arts: Supporting ELL Literacy Development

When: Friday, October 26, 2018

8:00am Registration / Breakfast

9:00am - 3:00pm Conference

(conference to begin promptly at 9:00am)

Where: Banchetti by Rizzo's, 550 N. French Rd, Amherst, NY

Join us for an exciting day of professional development with nationally recognized presenters and authors Gilberto Soto and Eugenia Mora-Flores. Each presenter brings a wealth of experience and expertise in the area of using creative and innovative practices to support English Language Learner reading and writing development. Mora-Flores is a former NYC bilingual education teacher, and worked with Teacher's College Reading and Writing Project. Soto is a professor of elementary bilingual music education, and his publications have been adopted in public and private school districts all over the United States, and in Europe and Asia as well.

All participants will receive a copy of each presenter's book, and 5 hours of CTLE credit. The cost, including breakfast, lunch and materials, will be $50.

Featured Presenters

2018 New York State Teacher's Institute $50/person

Sorry, no on-site registration. Pre-registration ONLY

No purchase orders or cross-contracts

Name _____ School District _____

Work Address _____

Email _____ Telephone _____

Please mail your registration form with check or money order (payable to Erie 1 BOCES) by October 1, 2018 to:

Dawn Novak, Erie 1 BOCES, 355 Harlem Rd, West Seneca, NY 14224

Confirmation sent by email when registration and payment are received.

Questions: Call Dawn at 716-821-7531 or dnovak@e1b.org

Registration includes breakfast, lunch, and a copy of each presenter's book.